the Jews and non-Jews are still obliged to live away from their families. If they are to

STORE FACILITIES

Mr. T. Fowler, an enterprising hotel ing is on Main Street, at 3rd Avenue, and is being fitted up as a store for A. L.

Matheson.

THE EPIDEMIC

The Edson physician has been a very busy man recently on account of the epidemic. The work of nursing has been well rewarded by the citizens in general, and by a graduate nurse, Miss Mary Horne in particular. She has been residing in Edson.

OBITUARY

The dread flu robbed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parks of their only son, Norman Young, born 1904, who, but eleven years of age and generally liked for quietness and pleasure of manner. A funeral service was held on Sunday afternoon in the Methodist church when the civilians of the town turned out in large numbers to express their sympathies with the bereaved parents. The body was taken by train to Wainwright for interment.

PERSONALS

It is pleasing to notice that Mr. H.
Gibson is on his job again, after a stroke of the flu. It is important readily, we are glad to say.

ALEX ROSS, CENTRE CALGARY, PRESENTS A PROPOSITION

Continuing he said it cost Canada $100,000 to finance the senate in 1913. It was time that this unrepresentative, unelected and purely political body be removed from Canadian history.

After the premier had expressed his views, Mr. Ross said that the place for the senate was in the past, and that the time of the legislature was now. He said that the senate was a purely political body, and that it was time that it be removed from Canadian history. He said that the senate was a purely political body, and that it was time that it be removed from Canadian history. He said that the senate was a purely political body, and that it was time that it be removed from Canadian history.

Speaking on behalf of his motion Mr. Ross was sure a better election system was needed. He said that the present system was a purely political one, and that it was time that it be removed from Canadian history. Growing up sturdy and strong on OXO CUBES

Sturdy and strong! That's how every mother wishes her children to grow up. Then give them a cup of Oxo every day. It can be made simply and quickly with Oxo Cubes.

A daily cup of Oxo works wonders in the matter of health. Sturdy children grow sturdier—backward children get rosy cheeks, gain weight, win back their appetites.

An excellent diet both for delicate children and invalids is an Oxo Cube in a glass of hot milk. Oxo renders the milk readily assimilable and vastly increases its nourishing value.
